

Wednesday 27 November

Anna Maria Horner is an American artist, fabric designer and quilter, whose work is popular throughout the world. Her fabric designs draw on nature, and she takes these designs and combines them into beautiful quilts. She is the proprietor of Craft South in Nashville, TN, and also Creative Director of the Conservatory range of fabrics produced by Free Spirit.

Saturday 30 November

Expect nostalgia, comedy, audience participation, a rip roaring 80s medley with a splash of Madonna as well as many stories enlightening the audience; French Chanteuse Edith Piaf's connection with the Resistance, a Julie Andrew's 'My Fair Lady' spoof to Dolly Parton's love for the 'nip and tuck.' Glamorous and captivating, Legendary Divas is a feast for anyone who wants to reminisce and celebrate those extraordinary women who will always remain in our hearts through their music.

SUNDAY 6 OCTOBER

The Pantaloons are back bringing Alice in Wonderland. Spend a magical afternoon, with the kids, in Wonderland!! Alice has found a world beyond her wildest dreams where she meets a cheeky rabbit with terrible timekeeping. But not all is well in Wonderland for even though no one has seen it, the mysterious Jabberwocky has been scaring all of the inhabitants.

FRIDAY 11 OCTOBER

Shakespeare has power. Miss Lucy knows it. The themes in his work speak to her. Ambition. Jealousy. Deception. Disorder. She believes in the Bard's stories, because they've helped her understand her own and she thinks they'll help others find their way too. 'Cellfish', where hardened inmates come face to face with a whole new nightmare: Shakespeare classes with Miss Lucy!

SUNDAY 13 OCTOBER

The NZ School of Dance returns to Kokomai Creative Festival with a diverse programme of classical ballet and contemporary dance. The repertoire will feature exciting highlights from timeless classics and strikingly powerful new works. Enjoy future stars of the dance world in a showcase that includes choreography by Peter Darrell and contemporary pieces by emerging and established choreographers.

WEDNESDAY 16 OCTOBER

The story springs straight from the realms of imagination and curiosity that children inhabit. What happens to that little man on the side of the rubbish bin when no-one is looking? He creates a whole universe out of people's paper, with a paper sun, paper trees, paper flowers and paper butterflies. Tickets FREE, bookings essential. Suitable for ages 2+.

WEDNESDAY 16 OCTOBER

"When I sing I want you to feel my hurt, my pain, my happiness and my sadness. I want to ask for forgiveness if I did something wrong and forgive people if they have done me wrong. All these things I try to do with my music." Greg is heavily influenced by artists such as James Brown, Wilson Pickett, Robert Johnson, Howlin' Wolf and many others. These influences have helped Greg to develop his own unique style, based on blues taking in soul and funk elements.

FRIDAY 18 OCTOBER

Shooglenifty are delighted to be heading back to New Zealand after an absence of 3 years. Expect some electric new tunes and a full-on set of old favourites. As happy playing a small highland village hall as they are on an outdoor festival stage playing to tens of thousands, the Shoogles (as they're known to their fans) have promoted Scottish music all over the world.

SATURDAY 19 OCTOBER

From New Zealand's leading circus company comes a tenacious troupe whose breath-taking performances are wrapped in an all-knowing nod and cheeky wink. With its soundtrack of rap, poetry and buzzing beats, they promise a night of acrobatic athletes, whose risqué hustle explores and celebrates female strength in its many forms.

SUNDAY 3 NOVEMBER

Learn about how your community can respond to the challenges of a disaster. Practice what to do at your Community Emergency Hub. Come along and find out how the Carterton community can work together to support each other after a disaster. Brought to you by CDC, Carterton Events Centre, Carterton Neighbourhood Support & WREMO
